Please note that aged balances of 30, 60, 90, 120, and 150 days are no longer a part of your statement. All non-current accounts are simply past due and subject to finance charges. All balances are due upon receipt of your statement! Past due balances aged past 90 days will result in deactivation of your account until it is current. If a payment is not received for the account after 90 days, and we have not received any communication from a customer, further steps will be taken to collect funds from the account such as sending to collections and/or possible termination of the sales agreement.

Contact information and check mailing address is located at the bottom of your statement.
