Zola Accepts Director of Technical Services at American Crystal

Alan Zola has accepted the position of Director of Technical Services at American Crystal Sugar Company.

His new role will involve leading and managing the engineering, maintenance and technical service groups to provide support to factory operations and ensure company operating standards and strategic goals are achieved. Zola holds a bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering with a Professional Engineer certification from University of North Dakota. He also holds an associate degree in Diesel Mechanics from Northland Community and Technical College. Zola has been with American Crystal for 19 years and was most recently the Factory Manager at our Drayton location.

American Crystal is a grower-owned cooperative and the nation's largest beet sugar producer with operating facilities in Moorhead, Crookston and East Grand Forks, Minn.; Hillsboro and Drayton, ND; and Sidney, MT.
